

COIN ACCEPTORS, INC. LAUNCHES THE VANTAGE® BILL RECYCLER AND CARD READER FOR THE VENDING INDUSTRY.

St. Louis, MO – April 15, 2009 – Coin Acceptors, Inc. (Coinco), in continuance of celebrating 50 years of business this year, will introduce the Vantage-VR6™ bill recycler and Vantage-VC6™ card reader at the 2009 NAMA Spring Expo, booth #642.

Building upon the recently released Vantage® bill acceptor, Coinco has developed two new product extensions that are specifically designed to increase vending sales by facilitating higher price points and meeting consumer demand for alternative payment methods.

The Vantage recycler module is a state-of-the-art device designed to recycle consumer inserted bills that were once confined to the bill acceptor cashbox. Compact in size and a cost effective retrofit solution, the Vantage recycler is the most versatile and practical bill recycling technology on the market today.

One of many new features is the interactive Smart Bezel™ that communicates to the consumer in real-time the availability of accepting high denomination bills based on the recycler bill count. The Changer Lockout feature preserves coin inventories within the changer, thereby eliminating the risk of coin starvation when accepting high denomination bills. With the industry's first straight bill extraction mechanism and 30 bill recycler capacity, the Vantage bill recycler will lead the industry in terms of reliability and superior operational performance.

“Acceptance of high denomination bills and dispensing paper currency as change is a viable means to achieving full revenue potential,” said Tom Paczkowski, Vice President of Marketing. “The Vantage-VR6™ delivers leading bill recycling technology which drives incremental revenue per outlet, lowers service and operational costs, and improves the consumer vending experience.”

For the cashless sector, the Vantage bill acceptor is now available with an add-on card reader module to support credit and debit card transactions. Factory or field installed, the Vantage card reader drives incremental sales by offering added payment flexibility. The intuitive vertical card path is ergonomically designed to optimize use in vending equipment to ensure reliable card swipes. A multi-line high contrast display and audible feedback provide the consumer with continuous transaction status.

“The Vantage bill acceptor has evolved into a diverse and flexible payment system that offers a wide array of consumer payment options,” said Parker Condie Jr., President of Coin Acceptors, Inc. “Coinco is committed to developing viable currency systems that are both relevant in today's market and support the needs of vending in the future.”

Founded in 1958, Coinco is a privately owned company and a global leader in the design and manufacture of payment systems and control systems. For nearly a half century, Coinco has been a provider of payment systems for automated transaction applications in the vending, amusement, retail, transit and specialty markets.
